Opportunity For Bankers

The Bank of America, the firm to which so many owe so much, has announced that the Blue Grass state of Kentucky has become the newest area to join the BankAmericard's national licensing program.

A bank in Louisville (pronounced Loo-y-ville) signed a licensing agreement with BoA last month and became the 17th bank across the country to develop the "easy credit syndrome" created by the growing banking firm.

It should be noted that the Bank of America was originated by A. P. Giannini, a push cart peddler, who saw the need of providing commercial finances for firms with a desire to expand. It was the forerunner, just a generation ago, of a new banking philosophy by which loans were beginning to be made for business venture. Prior to this, it was axiomatic that you could get the money from a bank only "if you didn't need it."

Prior to bringing Kentucky into its fold, BoA advised news media that banks in Nevada would soon be licensed to honor BankAmericards.

What does that suggest to you?

To us it suggests chips at a roulette table in Las Vegas, a friendly show-girl whose charms are chargeable, and all the food and booze you want to consume — all on credit!

When the Nevada announcement was made a couple of weeks ago, we called a San Diego BoA executive, Mrs. Mildred Aglietta, and advised her that we were planning a Las Vegas holiday with the intent of enjoying all of the Las Vegas goodies on credit — which included girls and gaming.

"You can't do it," she admonished. "Girls and gambling are not covered."

By this refusal, we suspect, we became the first of a financially handicapped cult — a no-less discriminated-against sect than that of a generation ago when Giannini emancipated push-cart peddlers by financing their desire to expand their operations.

All right, you bankers seeking new fields to conquer. Turn the table on Giannini. He outsmarted you when you wouldn't lend it to the push-carts. Now he won't lend it to those who would expand their performances in romance and gaming.

The banking opportunities are simply astounding. What red-blooded male wouldn't welcome a bank-backed credit card good for unlimited credit at a crap table in Las Vegas, and an unreserved ticket to enjoy the romantic charms of those lovely long-legged dancers in the chorus line?

Bankers arise. BoA can be outdone. Start now by sending us your application for your credit card tailored expressly for gaming and girls.

Money Won't Save the World

In a thoughtful study released by Maurice H. Stans, who was budget director under President Eisenhower, it was suggested that the federal budget might reach $300 billions by 1980.

Writing for the Republican Congressional Newsletter, he used President Johnson's 1968 budget as a backdrop against which he examines the growth of expenditures since 1960. These data were taken from the President's budget:

Since 1960, U. S. population has grown 10%.

Since 1960, civilian bureaucracy has grown 25%.

Since 1960, government payroll has grown by 75%.

Since 1960, total government spending has grown by more than 83%.

For proper perspective, it should be noted that the 1968 budget contains $22 billion for Vietnam. But since 1960, including that $22 billion, expenditures for national defense are up 68%.

Since 1960, non-defense expenditures of the government are up 97% and expenditures for national welfare and health programs are up 21%.

Other observations by Mr. Stans reveal that the deficits for the past 8 years total $50 billion and for the next decade it will be probably $75 billion.

The national debt will probably rise in the same amounts. He then deduces from these observations that:

The higher outgo is not due to Vietnam but is in the civilian non-defense activities in government.

Government spending will more than double during the decade of the 1960s, regardless of the outcome of the Vietnam conflict.

There is little likelihood of a balanced budget at any time in the foreseeable future.

There is a strong probability that government spending will double again in the 1970s. That means a $300 billion budget in 1980.

An antidote is suggested by Mr. Stans. The government must abandon its "crash" programs and attitudes that money will save the world overnight. The maximum future of our country and its people will require the slow processes of education, training research, and development of men and resources. There is no such thing as "instant tomorrow," says he.

Another antidote would be the bringing under control the proliferation and splintering of Federal programs — by consolidating, by forebearing, by transferring to private sources or to lower levels of government, by helping the States do more on their own.

There are few who believe such words will be heeded in Washington today.

Freeway Buttons Ready

All the buttons are not push buttons of modern technocracy. There are those they're putting on the freeway between the border and Los Angeles that will help save your life.

The State Division of Highways are waiting for installation of more than 450,000 ceramic buttons used as lane dividers. These buttons, now used instead of painted lines, will be installed on 98 miles of Interstate 5 in San Diego, Orange and Los Angeles Counties before summer is over.

Some have been installed north of Balboa ave., toward Carlsbad. Some have been installed on a stretch near National City.

All of this may appear prosaic at first glance, but there are some built-in features that are ingenious.

The award was presented "in recognition of progressive management . . . modern sales and service facilities . . . sound merchandising practices . . . high quality standards . . . and continuing interest in rendering superior service to Ford owners." Grace has been a Ford dealer in Lemon Grove since 1956.

L.M.-S.V. Trustees Discuss Possible Raise In Tax Levy

The board of trustees of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, Monday night, discussed the possibility of asking voters if the district can raise the operating tax levy above the present limit.

However, as Superintendent

Glenn Murdock pointed out, much depends on Legislature financing bills now being considered. Murdock said if the Legislature passes a bill giving just a small increase in school money, then the local district may have to hold an election before July 1, 1968.

Superintendent Murdock said

a mandatory test program for California school children has confirmed that students in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District are above the state norm. However, he said, California is below the national norm.

The board of trustees voted to purchase school furniture to outfit the new classrooms, which will open in the fall. Student furniture, including desks, amount to $6,500 and teachers desks, to $1,800. Student desks are being purchased from the Verco Co. of Los Angeles.

The Golden Arrow Dairy was awarded the milk contract for the coming year.

New Director Elected To La Presa Affiliate

In a special election held Tuesday, July 18, to fill the vacancy representing Division

1 of the Otay Municipal Water District, Byron R. Jacquot, a resident of 1547 Melrose ave., Chula Vista, was overwhelmingly elected. Jacquot received 315 votes to 25 write-in votes for his opponent, Lawrence C. Kuebler.

The election was marked by several unusual circumstances. Jacquot was originally endorsed for appointment to the Otay board by the 502 voter signatories, certified by the County Registrar, out of a total of 662 registered voters in Division 1 of the Otay District. Division 1 encompasses the Otay Mesa and the southerly portion of the Princess Manor residential development in East Chula Vista. The area coinciding with the service boundaries of the La Presa County Water District is designated as Division 3 of the Otay Water District, and is represented on the Otay board by Ralph W. Chapman, who is also a director and president of the La Presa County Water District.

From 1950 to 1953 Mr. Peterson conducted research in the field of narcotics as well as the illegal aspects surrounding this threat and has been a lecturer and established an educational program for the military personnel in the Eleventh Naval District, to be extended to all military personnel in the Far East Command. He was appointed a special investigator assigned to the Intelligence Office of the Far East Naval Command. He advised the Japanese in their National Anti-Narcotic Campaigns, and his efforts in this field were rewarded with the breaking up of a number of narcotic rings in Japan and Korea.

In 1956 Mr. Peterson returned to the United States and retired from the U. S. Navy and at the request of the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce and with the approval of the San Diego Board of Education, he lectured extensively in the San Diego City and County High Schools. He is also teaching each semester in the Health Education Department program at San Diego State College.

Mr. Peterson is a resident of San Diego since 1947 and lives with his wife Gertrude in San Diego. He is also the father of three children, and grandfather of three.

All parents of teenagers in the area are urged to attend with their children to hear this most important and informative speaker. The talk will be preceded by an informal summer ice-cream social in the VFW Hall at 7:30, and is sponsored by the Lemon Grove Republican Assembly, Mr. Ron Larkin, president.

To add further confusion, Kuebler's nomination petition was rejected by the County Registrar as it was not filed within the allowable time period for such filing. Kuebler then ran as a write-in candidate receiving 25 votes.

Voter turnout in Division 1 area of Otay Water District exceeded that for the recent gubernatorial election with almost 52 percent of the total registered voters turning out at the polls.

"With a full complement of directors on the Otay board, decisions can now be reached, which will again plummet the operation of the two districts under a Joint Powers agreement to the economic advantage of the districts," Chapman stated.

"The two districts previously operated as a unit, but because of regrettable misunderstandings and excessive costs.

Grossmont High Board Approves Budget, Cost-Of-Living Raise

The Grossmont Union High School District Governing Board, at its meeting on Monday, July 17, adopted a Publication Budget in the amount of $13,489,865. In additional action, the Governing Board granted the certificated and classified employees of the District a 4% across-the-board cost of living raise, and agreed to fund curriculum and instructional programs in the amount of $111,694. Included among these projects are programs designed to improve the quality of instruction for both college- and non-college-bound students.

In other action, the Governing Board approved a joint powers agreement with the Helix Irrigation District whereby Santana High School carpentry students would construct a house for the caretaker at Chet Harritt Dam; set the date for the disposal, free of charge, of worn and out-moded books, as of July 31, 1967, at 8 a.m.; delayed further discussion of the El Capitan Stadium until the August 7, 1967 board meeting; cancelled the second regular meeting scheduled for the month of August and set the first September meeting for Wednesday, September 6, 1967, at 3 p.m.; reaffirmed its original decision to hold the $6 million dollar school bond election on October 17, 1967, until such time as information forces a consolidation with other October elections; authorized the administration to enter into a one-year lease with Design Facilities for the furnishing of a portable building to be used to house blind students at El Cajon Valley High School; approved the establishment of a bus stop for Economy Buses on campus at Mt. Miguel High School.

Social Security Problems Now Solved In El Cajon

After one month of operation, the El Cajon Social Security District Office at 1010 East Main street, in El Cajon, has proven its need and worth to East San Diego County residents.

District Manager Sumio Oto said that during this first month of operation, since opening June 19, 1,800 persons called at the office regarding social security matters, 500 benefit claims were filed, 650 Social Cards were issued and numerous telephone inquiries were received.

Oto added, however, that many residents living in the El Cajon service area continue to go to the San Diego District Office for service—particularly those residing in the La Mesa, Lemon Grove, Spring Valley areas and in San Diego postal zones 92114 and 92119.

People living in these areas, as well as those residing in Santee, Lakeside, El Cajon and in localities eastward along Highway 80 to the Imperial County Line, and southward to the Mexican Border, should use the El Cajon District Office. This will prevent delays in processing claims and eliminate double handling.

Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. In addition,

Parcel post deliveries in Lemon Grove have been increased to six days a week, Postmaster Frenchy Faucher announced.

Until this week deliveries were made five days only.

He said the increased service was in line with a recent directive from Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien following the signing of the Post Office Department appropriation by President Johnson. The legislation contains an $8.5 million item for restoration of the six-day a week delivery which had been cut back in May 1964 as an economy measure.

Postal patrons served by "motorized" letter carriers have been receiving six-day deliveries all along. They were not covered by the 1964 cut-back inasmuch as carriers on vehicles can deliver parcels of any size.

Patrons living on routes serviced by foot carriers have received larger parcels from a five-day a week parcel post route covered by a truck.

Carriers on foot only deliver small packages.

Mens Club Meeting

The Lemon Grove Mens Club will hold its weekly meeting tomorrow with a noon luncheon at the Brunswick Bowlero, 7065 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

the office will be open on Wednesdays until 7:30 p.m., for the convenience of those who work or are unable to visit the office during the day.

Oto concluded by saying, "My staff and I are extremely gratified with the response and enthusiasm displayed by East San Diego County residents in their acceptance of our new El Cajon office."

Area residents are invited to contact the El Cajon office regarding Social Security matters relating to claims, inquiries and other actions.

Mail should be addressed to the Social Security District Office, P.O. Box 564, El Cajon, Calif., 92022. The phone number is 442-0851.

Seven Shots By Sniper Find Targets

A 13-year old Spring Valley boy became a sniper Monday morning when he wounded two persons while firing a .22-caliber rifle from his home.

Lawrence Phillip DeCroix, 914 Sacramento st., reportedly fired seven shots from the living room of his parents home. His father is in the Navy and his mother was working at the time.

Of the seven shots fired, two struck pedestrians in the area, with the other five hitting two homes and a parked vehicle.

Ronald John Wickland, 7, 920 Sacramento st., suffered a bullet wound in his left arm, with the bullet exiting from his left shoulder. The boy was wounded while walking in front of the suspect's home with his mother and sister.

While Deputy Ralph Rickly was investigating the first shooting, a second report was received. In that shooting, George Buck, an El Cajon resident working for the sanitation department was wounded in the chin. He was treated and released from Paradise Valley Hospital.

Also hit by sniper shots was the home of Hardy Wiggs, 9330 Piedmont. A bullet struck the sliding glass doors of the home and then hit the television set.

Charles Perry, 9324 Piedmont, reported that bullets struck two windows of his home. Another shot struck a 1958 Chevrolet on Sacramento st.

Mesa Fairgrounds. Appearing on the Friday evening program, Jones will address the assembly on the subject: "Personal Benefit from the Bible's Laws and Principles."

Jones, a local minister, is planning to attend with wife Barbara, daughters Melinda and Vicki, and son, Mark. Asked why he was taking his family, Jones said, "Christianity is a family matter with Jehovah's Witnesses. For example, this year's conventions are for the purpose of fortifying and equipping the family and especially today's youth to cope with problems caused by pressures from a world in turmoil. Our children will learn in a beneficial way the meaning of world events as foretold in the Bible."

Other subjects on the four-day program will be: "Parents, Are Your Children Christ's Disciples?" and "Evolution Undermines Faith."

At present hundreds of Witnesses are making a house-to-house search for rooms in order to accommodate the thousands of visiting delegates.

Forty-eight assessors increased the average assessment level in their counties this year. A moving average of the goal of 25 percent was set by the State Board of Equalization, disclosed recently.

The property tax administration agency's preliminary estimates found that San Diego County's assessment averaged 22.5 percent of market value, compared to the statewide average this year of 23.1 percent.

"We feel that a county assessor hit the bullseye if the figure we found for his county is within a percentage point either way from the percentage which he announced," Nevins declared.

Death Toll High In Child Drownings

The San Diego Department of Public Health reported that home swimming pools continue to take a high toll of lives, particularly among children under 4 years of age.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, cited a recently issued State Department of Public Health report on drownings in California. He said that according to the report, a total of 601 drownings occurred throughout California in 1966, and 473 of the deaths were associated with recreation.

Of the drownings related to recreation, 113 occurred in home swimming and wading pools. Fifty-eight of the home pool victims were children under 4.

"Not a year goes by without some San Diego County youngsters drowning in home swimming pools," Dr. Askew said. "We can anticipate some of these tragic accidents occurring in the very near future when warm weather brings the swimming pool season to San Diego County."

He went on to say that drownings of very young children can be prevented only by constant supervision.

"A small child should never be left unattended near water. Toddlers have not yet developed coordination or balance. Never take your eyes off a child who is crawling, walking, or even lying down near a swimming pool. A swimming pool should be fenced in and the gate kept locked while your pool is not in use, so that no accidents may occur."

According to the State statistics, the following number of drownings occurred in these recreational areas:

Home pools, 113; lakes and reservoirs, 87; ocean, 72; rivers and creeks, 70; harbors and bays, 48; canals, ponds and ditches, 46; public pools, 19; and channels and sloughs, 18.

The Dimmer View

Because the new markers are ceramic it means that the reflective surface is permanent. Plastic has a tendency to dull with age and replacement requirements are frequent. Painted lines have to be re-done twice a year—and even so, painted lines are not always visible in wet weather.

Ceramic markers cost about 50¢ each—and a dollar for installation. They are cemented into place by a special polyester epoxy. Drivers who drift across buttoned lanes will be warned by a noisy, rumbling sound. Lane changing is one of the major causes of freeway accidents, safety engineers say, and the warning noise is a safeguard. The rumbling effect of tires on the buttons will also awaken dozing drivers who might otherwise become involved in accidents. The tire action when it touches the ceramic button has a cleaning effect, according to Ray Grandstedt, assistant division traffic engineer for CDH. Enough contact is made each day to keep the buttons clean, he says.

According to Grandstedt, there will be a wedge shaped marker for every seven buttons. The wedges will have a highly reflective surface aimed right at the driver. These wedges will appear to be lighted to the oncoming motorist. The reverse side of the wedge reflects a warning red. If a driver is going the wrong way on Route 5, he will see a string of red warning reflectors—if he lives long enough.

It's not a big deal, as freeway projects go, but it could be the difference between life and death for many motorists—particularly the innocent ones who might otherwise become victims of a dozing-driver accident.

Public Utilities Value Assessed at $227,265,900

San Diego County was notified that the property of privately-owned public utilities has been preliminarily assessed at $227,265,900 for 1967.

This, compared to the 1966 total of $228,374,710, a change of $1,108,810, or .49 percent, according to the State Board of Equalization, which assesses these properties for local taxation.

The tentative total for the 192 utilities was pegged at $4.66 billion, a gain of $34 million over last year. The Board noted that equalization and lower common stock values for nearly every major utility accounted for the minimal changes in many counties.

WHAT'S DOING?

What do you do when your phone gets out of whack on a Saturday night? This can certainly be a serious problem—particularly if someone in your family is ill or you are expecting an important call. Should this happen to you, we're always there to help. Just call us at Repair Service. You'll find the number listed in the front pages of your telephone book.

Whether it's Saturday night or a holiday, if it's an emergency to you, it's an emergency to us. If there's trouble on the line, we may be able to fix it without sending a repairman out. But if necessary, he'll be out to get your phone working again.

If immediate repairs are not required, we'll fix the phone on our next regular workday. And of course, we never charge you for this service.

A drive-in payment window located on the northeast side of the Telephone Company Office at 5500 Grossmont Center Drive is available as a convenience for customers who wish to pay their bills without leaving their cars.

This is the first Telephone Company drive-in window in the San Diego area and has proved quite popular with La Mesa area residents.

It's a well-known fact that whenever you want to buy something, rent something, or have something fixed, you'll find it fast in the yellow pages. But there's one man in New York who has found a new use for the yellow pages—he's eating his way through them. To this date he has covered half of the restaurants in Manhattan. And, at his present pace he will visit his last restaurant in 1980 at a cost of $50,000! Might I suggest he then try all the reducing salons?

4 Convicted Of Showing Lewd Films

Four persons have been convicted of exhibiting obscene movies in Spring Valley on April 7.

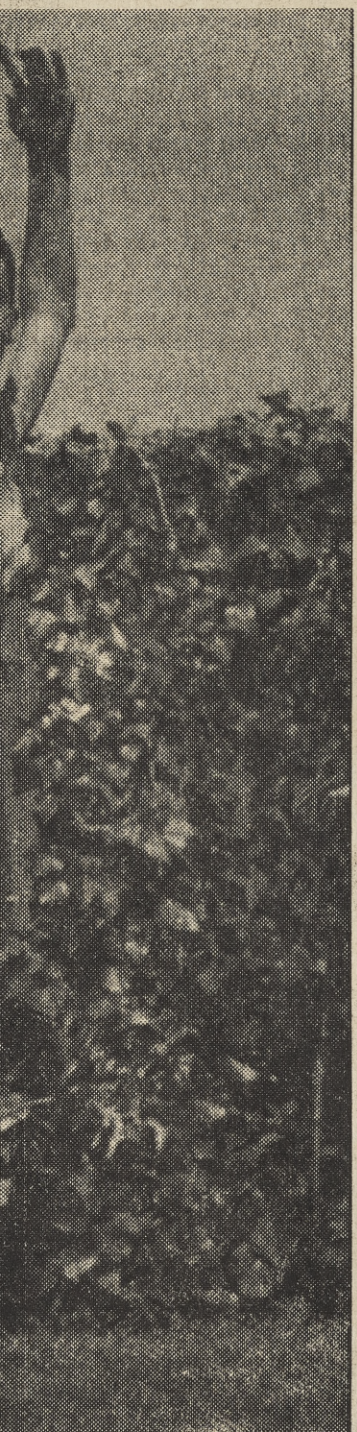

The movies were shown at a private residence at 1529 Drexel st., at the home of Vincent Biondo.

Convicted and scheduled to be sentenced Aug. 24 by Judge Donald W. Smith in El Cajon Municipal Court are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Street, of San Diego; Samuel Y. Merrill, of Chula Vista, and Biondo. Their four were ruled guilty after they waived a jury trial.

Deputy District Attorney Gilbert Smith prosecuted the case after an undercover investigator attended a party at Biondo's home.

The investigator joined the conviviality, watched the show and called the police via an electronic device. The police were waiting in a parked car near the home-theatre. The DA's office didn't reveal whether the undercover agent was male or female.

Independent State Colleges Support Scholarship Raise

An association of 49 independent California colleges and universities expressed support for AB 1765, a bill to double the number of state scholarships available under the state competitive scholarship program from 1 to 2 percent of previous year's high school graduates.

The bill, authored by Assemblyman F. James Bear (D-San Diego) passed the Assembly last week with only four dissenting votes and is now in Senate. AB 1765 would increase the number of scholarships available under the state competitive scholarship program from 1 to 2 percent of previous year's high school graduates.

Expansion of the State Scholarship Program is of great importance to both independent and public institutions of higher learning," states Dr. George H. Armacost, president of the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities.

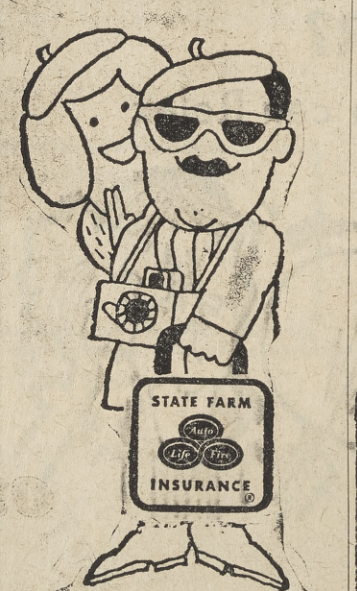

The Association comprises all accredited non-tax supported, four-year institutions of higher learning in California. Combined enrollment of the 49 institutions is 73,000 students. Dr. Armacost is president of the University of Redlands.

Cajon de Oro Lone Survivor In Youth Baseball Tournament

Locals Ride Pitching Arms Of Baker Pettijohn; Five Area Teams Beaten

WINNING COMBO: Rick Baker, left, and Mike Pettijohn, right, standout pitchers for the Cajon de Oro Little League team, show Manager Dr. Lowell Smith their healthy arms. The doctor gave an approving diagnosis to the two hurlers who will be in action tonight against Fletcher Hills on the Singing Hills Little League field in El Cajon. Game time is set for 5:30. Baker and Pettijohn pitched the locals' two victories last week in the opening of the all-star competition.

Cajon de Oro Little League, supported by the pitching of Mike Pettijohn and Rick Baker, became the only survivor among area youth baseball teams following opening round action in the various all-star tournaments.

Five other leagues in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area all met defeat last week, and with a couple of heart-breaking games characterizing the action.

Cajon de Oro blasted out a 12-5 decision over La Mesa American last Thursday night and came right back Saturday to nudge highly-regarded Western, 2-0.

It took two days and 14 suspenseful innings before Lemon Grove Little League finally met defeat in its opening game. Lemon Grove and Southeastern deadlocked 1-1 after nine innings of play Thursday, completed the final five innings Saturday morning, before Southeastern prevailed, 3-2.

Spring Valley Pony League came within inches of still being in the area pony league tournament. Spring Valley blasted Grossmont in its opener 12-3, but a wasted error and a spectacular catch drove the locals as they lost Saturday's game, 1-0 to La Mesa S.V. bounced back to nudge Grossmont, 3-1, but again La Mesa put a halt to the victory with a 4-2 decision which eliminated the area team.

Sky Grove Pony League was in the same tournament as Spring Valley, but failed to capture a victory. The Lemon Grove-Skyline-Bacanto team fell 2-0 to La Mesa in the tournament opener and then was eliminated by Grossmont, 4-2 on a two-run homer.

Valley de Oro Little League couldn't get its bats working in the Cajon American round-out a 7-0 decision over the locals. Rex McCombs, Gary Simpson, Dennis Hines, and Danny Beam stroked hits for the locals.

Baker and Pettijohn teamed up with the home run hitting Allen Toft to supply the punch for Cajon de Oro's two victories. Pettijohn fired a two-hitter at La Mesa American and Toft slammed two home runs and accounted for four runs batted in. Baker, a left-hander, limited Western to just a pair of hits, while recording 15 strikeouts in the standout performance. Kenny Margulis drove in the winning runs in the fifth inning with a two-run single.

"We weren't really surprised with the way our boys played because we knew we had a good team and the boys could do the job," explained winning manager Dr. Lowell Smith of Cajon de Oro.

"We had a real good defense and, as you can see, the pitching was outstanding," said Dr. Smith. "We still have two real good right-handers who haven't pitched yet."

"The Fletcher Hills team we play tonight has some real good hitters," continued Smith. "They have one boy who has three home runs in the tournament already and who hit 15 during the season."

Dr. Smith has not decided which one of his four hurlers will be on the mound for tonight's game against Fletcher Hills at the Singing Hills Little League field in El Cajon near Granite Hills High School. Game time is 5:30.

Steve Mays was the winning pitcher in both of Spring Valley Pony League's victories. Mays picked up for starter Tom Young in the third inning of the first Grossmont game. S.V. scored six times in the fourth with Ed Zimmerman, Nick Schuff and Terry Louis getting two hits.

S.V. fell prey to a no-hitter in the 1-0 La Mesa loss, with the rivals getting the lone run on an error. Pitcher Jess Bowers of the locals had the third out in the inning when he picked off a La Mesa runner, but the ball got by the S.V. first baseman and the runner advanced to third and scored on a hit.

Bowers apparently slammed a home run to tie the score in the seventh. The umpire had given the roundtripper sign. But the La Mesa center fielder had leaned far over the fence to make an impossible grab of the smash and the umpire ruled he had caught it for the out.

Spring Valley rebounded behind the pitching of Young and Mays in the third game, with Bower's single driving in the winning runs in the fifth.

Pas-ed balls caused S.V. the final loss to La Mesa, with each team getting four hits. "Spring Valley Little League captured its first game Friday against National City American, but dropped its Saturday game to get eliminated from the tourney."

New Spring Valley Bobby Sox League To Host Area Tournament Next Week

The Spring Valley Bobby Sox Softball League, in only its third year of operation in the local community, will host the area tournament starting Wednesday at the league's field at Bancroft Elementary school.

Spring Valley's entry will test the Fighting Escondido team in the 7:30 p.m. nightcap, preceded by a 5:30 game between La Mesa and El Cajon.

Winners of the two first-night games will come back the following night to play in the double elimination event. The champion of the tournament will advance to the finals at Buena Park, California, up next in the Anaheim area.

Anabel Brown will manage the local girls, ranging in age from 12 to 14, with coaches Bud Green and Joan Schlemmer. Chaperones for the team will be Barbara Wujcik and Mickey Horst.

Bobby Sox softball began in this area three years ago, when some adults became disgruntled with the disheartening evolution of Little League Baseball and decided to give the girls a chance at our national pastime.

In its first two years of operation, the league played its games at the Spring Valley Little League field and Spring Valley Junior High.

Through the encouraging efforts of interested citizens, community sponsors, and the La Mesa Spring Valley School district, the league developed its own field on the grounds of Bancroft Elementary school for this season.

The league has constructed a functional ball diamond with a fence, scoreboard, dugouts, concession stand, and concrete bleacher facilities, along with a set of lights for night ball games. "All the money we needed to establish these facilities for the girls was raised from various community fundraising projects," explained Mrs. Winnie McPherson, publicity chairman.

There are about 18 girls divided into two divisions in the league. There are 6 major and seven minor league teams with the majors taking the 12 to 14 year olds and the minor encompassing the 9 to 11 year old girls.

Local community sponsors of the major teams were Fairway TV, Spring Valley Rotary, B&W Hardware, Benny's Pizzeria, Spring Valley Merchants, and a team sponsored by two businesses — Morrie's Shell and Spring Valley Merchants. Bobby Sox softball is completely organized with accredited umpires and complete supervision. It was formed five years ago by a small group of men, who drew up a set of rules which have been improved yearly.

In 1964, there were 2,200 girls in the organization. In 1966 the count rose to 9,000, and this season the membership practically doubled. At the present, there are 1,250 teams in California and the organization is just in the growing stage.

In this season's state tournament, possible entries will come from La Puente, Long Beach and El Centro. This year's event is expected to cost $5,000, double the $2,500 it took to run last year's tournament.

L.G. Family Helps Challenge Apathy Towards Retardation

Parents Seek Needed Aid For Daughter

By Herbert Terry

We like to think it was cons ago that retarded children were locked in dark attics and spoken of only in hushed whispers to the family intimate. While that time is fortunately past there are still thousands of mentally injured youngsters who, according to one group of researchers, are not receiving all help possible. According to these men many children should not be relegated to a life-long role as a "human vegetable," but rather could be helped to the point where they can assume new duties and take a normal, perhaps leading, role in society.

One of the fortunate children who has been helped in Marilyn Curtis, the blond-haired and blue-eyed two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curtis, 2630 Nida place, Lemon Grove. Marilyn suffers from hydrocephalus, commonly known as water on the brain, which is an abnormal increase of fluid in the brain.

In January Dr. Eugene B. Spritz, a neurosurgeon at a Philadelphia hospital, placed a "V-J shunt" in Marilyn's body. The doctor installed a tube and valve between Marilyn's brain and heart through which the excess cerebrospinal fluid is drawn harmlessly from the brain to the circulatory system. This prevents enlargement of the head and destruction of the brain which can bring loss of mental powers and early death.

Marilyn did not escape brain damage, however. She is a brain-injured child, like more than 70% of all "retarded" children. Marilyn's parents took her to all available medical specialists and were told that she was simply "slow" and nothing could be done. Last November they sought help from the Institute for the Achievement of Human Potential at San Diego, a local affiliate of a 20 year-old Philadelphia based group. There her hydrocephalus was discovered and arrangements made for her operation, performed later at Philadelphia. Before the surgery, according to her parents, Marilyn was a "human vegetable, flaccid and incapable of sense perception." It is with such children, as well as with he less severely injured, that the Institute for the Achievement of Human Potential deals.

PATTERNING: Mrs. Donald Curtis, center, leads a three-woman team in patterning her daughter, Marilyn. Volunteers from the Lemon Grove area are assisting with the treatments.

The Institute was formed 20 years ago by a neurosurgeon, a specialist in physical medicine, an educator and a physiotherapist. According to Glenn Doman, the physiotherapist and now director of the Institute, "None of us was satisfied with the results he was getting as an individual specialist. We hoped that by working together . . . we could accomplish more." The group decided to concentrate on brain injured children, one of the three types of mental retardation. The other types are natural deficiencies from birth and psychoses. As yet little can be done for these afflictions.

According to the Institute's founders the human brain has about 10 billion cells. The Institute's methods are designed to stimulate remaining living cells in a damaged brain to take over functions previously performed by the now dead cells. Their treatment methods impose patterns of physical activity which occur naturally in the development of a normal child, such as creeping and crawling, upon the brain-injured youngster. The goal, say the founders, is to gain proper "neurological organization."

Some medical authorities have said the Institute is guilty of pyramiding unproven hypotheses. They say the program as yet to prove itself in a controlled test and view it with skepticism. The American Medical Association (AMA) has not approved the Institute's work. Marilyn's parents put it another way, however. The "AMA may not approve of it but it does work. All it takes is total dedication by the parents and diligent work with the child and results do come."

To some the methods used seem bizarre. They involve total control of the injured child's environment in an effort to put him back on the path to normal neurological organization. A commonly used method is patterning, forcing the child to carry on a crawling motion in an effort to get new brain cells to control the arms, legs, and neck.

The program is an arduous one for both parents and child. Says Mrs. Curtis, "You have to believe in it because it changes your whole life. You don't go out any more, rarely leave the house and simply devote all of yourself to your child. It's worth it, however, when you really see improvement others told you could never come."

Marilyn's program includes three patterning sessions a day at 8:30 and 9:30 in the morning with an afternoon session at 2. It's a three-person job—one turning the head, one to move the left arm and leg, and the third for the right side. When Marilyn was recovering from her operation she stayed at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Miller of Ramsey, New Jersey. There, some seventy volunteers from the area, including retired couples and high-school girls, assisted Mrs. Miller in caring for Marilyn.

Mrs. Curtis is now seeking help from the Lemon Grove community. A neighbor, Mrs. Eva Edgil of 2624 Nida place is trying to organize the volunteers. Appeals have been made through PTA flyers and to church and women's club meetings, but more help is needed. Says Mrs. Curtis, "Some women wonder about giving up their time, but once they've seen a patterning session they're hooked."

Marilyn's other activities include picking up pennies and buttons, identifying—by touch only—small objects hidden in a bag, playing in sand, doing eye exercises with a pen-light, tasting and smelling, working with zippers and hammers, and crawling down a wooden slide. Eventually everything in the house will be labeled in an effort to improve her vocabulary.

One idea behind neurological order is that a child eventually must have one-side dominance by the brain in order to overcome brain damage. She must be either left or right footed, handed, eyed and eared

Resolution Approval Gives Possibility to S.V. Park

Last Wednesday, July 19, the California State Assembly gave approval to a Resolution to get the ball rolling for a state park in the Spring Valley area.

ACR 116, authored by Assemblyman Wadde Dedden and Senator Clare Burgener, passed the second hurdle on the legislative road to success. The measure directs the State Department of Parks and Recreation to conduct a feasibility study in the Spring Valley area to determine the possibility of establishing a state park in the area that both leg islators represent.

The measure will now be carried by Senator Burgener and will be heard in the Senate Committee on Natural Resources.

Senate approval is necessary before the study will be conducted. Following passage, the study will be conducted during the next year.
